BY ROSS HALPIN

No photographer in the world took more—or better—shots of Iron Maiden than Ross Halpin. Having worked with the group since their emergence in the late Seventies, he became a part of the roller coaster ride that saw Maiden conquer the world as the leading light of the New Wave Of British Heavy Metal.

This new, do-bust photo documentary features Halpin's photography from throughout their career, in Europe, America and elsewhere, on stage, backstage and wherever else they happened to be.

Featuring a foreword by founder member Steve Harris and an introduction by former Sound editor Kerry Walden Geoff Barton.

ROSS HALPIN is one of the top music photographers in the world today. After beginning his career with Sound magazine in England in the late Seventies, he helped launch Kerrang!, for which he became chief photographer for its first decade.

As well as Iron Maiden, he has been associated with a number of top metal acts including Metallica, Def Leppard, Ozzy Osbourne and Black & Blue. He is based in London.
